Where Gaston Hall (map)

Description James Carville is one of America's greatest political consultants, leading Democratic strategists, and political commentators. After managing many successful Senator and Governor campaigns, he garnered national attention for his role as the lead strategist of the victorious presidential campaign of Bill Clinton. In 1993, Carville was awarded "Campaign Manager of the Year" and his role is heavily featured in the Academy Award nominated film The War Room. After 1992, he began working on a number of foreign campaigns, including Tony Blair's successful run for Prime Minister. Currently, Carville is host of XM radio's "60/20" weekly sports show and is a political commentator and contributor on CNN. He is married to Republican political strategist Mary Matalin. This Lecture is the 4th Annual Michael Jurist (SFS '07) Memorial Lecture, in honor of Michael Jurist.

Come see James Carville do what he does best: talk politics. He will be speaking in Gaston Hall on April 22nd, at 4pm.

This event is co-sponsored with Lecture Fund and the Jurist Family
